Noort

A functional and fascinating serif with a look that withstands complexity of information and style

Juan Bruce's Noort is not a type family for wayfinding or mapmaking alone, but for clarifying information and engaging readers along their own journey. The information designer's role is to bring clarity and style to overwhelming amounts of information, which fortunately is Noort's purpose as well. Hierarchies submit to its will and layering colour only adds more presence to its active posture.

Noort's design uses the proven editorial text features of a large x-height, ample spacing, and low contrast to check all the boxes for paragraph text use. But it's the long serifs, wide characters, and overall typographic presence that make it resilient and ease the task of reading in small point sizes. These details mean Noort is able to demonstrate importance not only with its five pitch-perfect weights, but with its brindled colour within a layout.

Noort's roman and italic styles play off each other by transplanting their design features. The roman style's serifs are transferred in substance but expectedly increased in speed in the italic styles. And the italic's inktraps and separated strokes are echoed amidst the roman's upright structure. Where digitisation could have removed the influence of the hand, Noort retains the analogue nature of its creation. This antiphonal seeding of details creates a cohesive family that is as fascinating as it is functional.

Noort's axis and serifs have a slightly varying ductus — the directional flow that aids reading and character clarity. Its latent obviousness in text sizes immediately becomes its signature style when bumped up to subhead sizes. And since Noort's counters are so wide and welcoming, its heavier weights can expand more within themselves than along their exterior edges.

Noort's ten total fonts cover the Latin A Extended glyph set to bring its unbordered, globetrotting sensibilities to your projects. OpenType features include ligatures, fractions, and several figure styles, along with mature-rather-than-overbearing swashes. Aligned with TypeTogether's commitment to produce high-quality type for the global market, the complete Noort family can set digital and printed works with ease, capitalising on the dual needs of clear information and fascinating textual artistry.

THE DESIGNER

Juan Bruce is an independent type designer, researcher, and illustrator based in Chile. In 2010 he acquired a BA in Graphic Design from the Diego Portales University, after which he started his career in the typographic field.
He was able to specialise in this discipline after being awarded the Becas Chile scholarship to study abroad and thus complete the MA in Typeface Design at the University of Reading. Juan received his MA with Distinction in 2015, and has since focused his work on text typefaces and multiscript typography for Northern Indian scripts, particularly Bengali. Part of his work has been researching the extinct Khojki scripts and their typographic history. His research has subsequently been recognised in the United States and France for its contribution to the understanding of the printing presses and identity affairs of Bombay's Khoja community. Juan published Noort with TypeTogether as the recipient of the second Typeface Publishing Incentive Programme.

FAMILY UPGRADES

Buy a single weight (or more) now and get reimbursed if you buy the entire font bundle at a later time. This is a great way to explore a new typeface without full commitment. To take advantage of this, please email info@type-together.com.

CUSTOM WORK

We offer custom font solutions tailored to your needs. This may include developing new typefaces from scratch, modifying existing typefaces, extending language support, and creating logotypes. Please contact us for details at info@type-together.com.

LICENSING

Our complete font catalogue, along with the presented type family here, is available for print, self-hosting web applications, and app embedding at TypeTogether's online store. For other license types and more information, please contact us at info@type-together.com.

TESTING OUR FONTS

TypeTogether actively seeks ongoing dialogue with all type users and therefore offers free temporary licenses to test any of our typefaces. The test fonts are fully functional and include the entire character set and OpenType features. To request test fonts, please contact us at info@type-together.com.

EDUCATIONAL & CHARITY DISCOUNT

TypeTogether offers a 25% discount on all typeface purchases for students and those in education (schools, departments, etc.). This discount also extends to NGOs and charities in general. Please contact us for details at info@type-together.com.

For further information, samples, and ordering, please visit www.type-together.com.
